

Enjoying land, sea and air

Climbing rocks! Even more so in an exceptional environment: under the Mediterranean sun, directly at the waterline or over the water, with the roar of the surf in your ears. Welcome to the paradise of Deep Water Soloing.

Our floating base camp brings us to the most fascinating and spectacular rocks for climbing, situated directly at the water's edge.

Paragliding can make you high! If there are sun, sea, beaches and mountains, then there must be gliding as well! You can soar along the coast or fly the thermics amid the higher mountains in the north of Mallorca, accompanied by experienced gliders and trainers. Whenever possible we land on the beach, from where the dinghy then brings us back again to our floating glider-hotel.

We stay on board the 20 metre long catamaran LARGYALO, a boat which has its own special exotic charisma, with plenty of room for leisure, for relaxing, or for enjoying good company. Even landlubbers will feel at home here. The excellent service from the kitchen looks after our bodily welfare and makes life on board a real culinary pleasure.

The regions for climbing and gliding are to be found all round the Balearic Islands. In some there are breath-taking rock walls with numerous Seillängen, others are smaller rocks or Bogengänge directly above the water. They present all degrees of difficulty, both for professionals and for beginners.

For the flyers there are steep coastlines or smaller hills for soaring, and in some places there are also higher mountains, allowing longer flights.

At sea a steady, lively wind usually blows until well into the night, so that gliding can be enjoyed without stress.

The new areas into which our sailing route regularly takes us will satisfy everyone's expectations and abilities.

Those who don't always feel like climbing or gliding can spend their time on or under the water, exploring one of the splendid beaches or simply relaxing lazily in a hammock. Most often we anchor undisturbed in picturesque bays and are able to adjust the planning of the day according to the wishes of the group.
